REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance. The prior art made of record in the attached form PTO-892 considered to be pertinent to the submitted application.

Thompson US # 6,442,823 discloses an apparatus for forming rivet joints with a desired amount of clearance to allow pivotal motion of the parts interconnected by such joints. Wherein the parts to be riveted together are aligned with each other and rivet is placed into aligned holes. Wherein parts to be connected are placed in required position via a work support anvil and rivets support anvil prior to formation of the second head on the opposite end of the rivet, to provide desired clearance.

De Voss US # 3,773,238 teaches fastener installing machine including an automatic drilling and riveting machine. A block driving member is movable into and out of engagement to mechanically lock the clamping member against the work after the upward clamp-up motion of the ram and clamping member is completed, providing a back-up force for insertion of fastener forced through the work without causing excessive clamping forces on the work pieces.

Kellner et al. US # 5,615,474 teach an automatic fastening machine with a system control for directing and monitoring the operation of an automatic fastening machine, such as automatic drilling and riveting machine, by recording and processing relevant data from each drilling and riveting cycle.

However, none of the prior art teaches or suggests a combination of:

 Moving the second part relative to the first part about the pivot joint while monitoring the relative angular displacement of the parts;

- Monitoring the torque required to move the second part relative to the first part, while driving the fastener screw;
- Adjusting the tightness of the fastener screw to achieve a monitored torque that is within predetermined limits.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
